

Congratulations to the University of Washington student chapter for receiving the Outstanding Student Chapter Award for 2006!

The National American Water Resources Association presents this award to the student chapter that has provided outstanding service in the furtherance of the Association's objectives.

An active 2005-2006 school year earned the U.W. students this recognition. Activities included: quarterly socials, volunteer efforts at two local restoration events, participation in The Water Center's Annual Review of Research, a watershed demo at the Civil and Environmental Engineering Open House, and the Skagit River Rafting Trip and Tour.

Officers for this U.W. chapter include:

- ◆ Chris James (President)
- ◆ Brian Cook (Secretary)
- ◆ Matt Fontaine (Treasurer)
- ◆ Julie Horowitz (Publicity and Outreach)
- ◆ Arden Thomas
(Liaison to WA State Chapter)
- ◆ Ted Bohn (Website Developer)
- ◆ Stephanie Kampf (past President)
- ◆ Professor Anne Steinemann serves as the Faculty Advisor.

The award will be presented at the AWRA Annual Water Resources Conference scheduled for November 6-9, 2006 in Baltimore, Maryland. The student chapter is gearing up for another excellent school year. A fall kick-off meeting is planned for early October and the state chapter is hosting a joint meeting on October 24th at the University of Washington's Waterfront Activities Center (more details to come). Stay informed of the student chapter's activities by checking out their webpage:

<http://students.washington.edu/awra/index.html>